W.E. Stacy & Sons have been in the Beefmaster business since 1967. They raise "honest" cows that have never been pampered. These cows know how to hustle, make it on their own, get bred and raise calves.

Of 316 dry cows over two-years-old only 11 were open — less than 4%! The entire herd including the 1985 heifer crop maintained a 94% conception rate — on native pasture, all natural service with absolutely no feed or supplement.

Every animal selling carries the Stacy brand and will be "Stacy-bred" for several generations. Undoubtedly the most concentrated pool of "in-herd" genetics in the breed.

Cattlemen Get Word on Big Issues During Convention in Reno

91st Year, No. 6 Fort Worth, Texas, February 5, 1987 Forty-Four Pages, 2 Sections

Stuff & Thangs

WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS IS CROP CONTROL ON EXPORTS...

You just can't hardly open up a newspaper or magazine or tune in the radio or the T.V. these days that some self-proclaimed expert isn't telling us that whatever we are doing is wrong and especially the things we like to do, is going to kill us dead long before our time. Some of these experts are talking us out of our own mouths. They're telling us that everything from coffee, tea, booze or even water are going to drive us over the hill to the graveyard before we know it. And if we indulge in our native sloth and do not work up a hard sweat two or three times a day and develop muscles, callouses, corns and shins splints, we are doomed for good and all.

Any gal who is pleasantly plump is doomed and any guy who casts a decent shadow is likewise on the way to oblivion. (CONT. ON PAGE 2A)

Volcker Opposes Special Farm Lending Powers

Washington, Feb. 2 (KRF) — Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker said today he opposed special farm lending powers for the Fed.

"It is not the function of the Federal Reserve to lend to specific sectors," Volcker told the Joint Economic Committee. If increased farm lending is good policy, it is not "an appropriate function for the central bank," he said.

Direct lending from the Fed to the Farm Credit System would place increased pressure on the money supply, he said. Those pressures would be stronger than if the government increased farm lending, he said.

Direct lending risks making the Fed "an engine of inflation," the Federal Reserve can too easily become a money machine, Volcker said. The Fed ought to play close attention to growth of the money supply without having responsibility for deciding on the propriety of lending for specific social purposes, he said.

Cattle-Fax Predicts Higher 1987 Feeder Cattle Prices

Reno (KRF) — Strong competition for feeding, feeder cattle supplies should produce higher feeder cattle prices this year, and these prices should maintain a premium over fed cattle prices, according to Cattle-Fax analyst speaking at the annual outlook seminar.

Expected declines in per-capita beef supplies also should result in slightly higher fed cattle prices this year than in 1986, Tupper Thorpe, Cattle-Fax general manager, said.

Profit on fed-cattle may be narrow because of higher feeder cattle prices, but inexperience and low production costs should allow for profits, he said.

Feed and production costs in 1987 may be the lowest since the 1970s.

Agricultural Policy, Foreign Trade, Credit, Land Management, Animal Health, Marketing, Beef Promotion Situations Aired

Reno — Cattlemen attending the National Cattlemen's Association convention were updated on issues pertinent to their industry during the "Live From Washington — Meet the Decision Makers" program.

NCA staff members outlined the status of such issues such as agricultural policy, foreign trade, animal health, credit, public lands, research, grazing, marketing and promotion.

Agricultural Policy: Many of the proposed changes in the farm bill could have profound impacts on the beef cattle industry, said Chandler Keys, manager of congressional relations. Mandatory supply controls in grain production, Keys said, would artificially inflate the price of grains. The dairy industry is expected to attempt to change the current dairy title in order to continue the dairy buyout or establish a two-tiered price support system, both of which NCA would oppose.

Foreign Trade: The United States has been the world's largest importer of beef for more than 20 years, but it's relatively new to the exporting side of trade, said Tom Cook, director of industry affairs. NCA has assumed the lead responsibility for the industry in addressing the trade policy issues, and it is part of the cooperative Meat Industry Trade Policy Council.

The council and the association will address such trade issues as the European Community Third Country Directive, which outlines requirements third countries have to meet to export meat into EEC countries and which is considered a trade barrier to U.S. exports; the proposed ban on hormones in the EC; Korea's ban on meat imports, trade legislation and Japanese beef talks.

Animal Health: Congressional involvement in animal health issues is usually through budget and appropriations, so NCA communicates regularly with personnel from the USDA and the Food and Drug Administration on these issues.

But, Cook said, Congress is taking more active interest in certain food safety issues, such as animal drug use; and the animal rights movement has caught the attention of some. NCA is an active participant with the Farm Animal Welfare Coalition, which monitors the animal welfare movement.

Credit: Agricultural credit will be a key issue for work through lobbying efforts and grassroots pressure in 1987, according to Alan Sobba, tax and credit manager. Working groups and coalitions play a very important role in Washington such as stories, he said. A group similar to the Agricultural Tax Study Group is now in place to discuss the effects of credit issues and develop strategy.

Land and Environmental Management: The 100th Congress promises action on many water, environmental, park, wilderness and other public and private lands issues, said Patty McDonald, director of public lands.

The reauthorization of the Clean Water Act, the first bill considered by this Congress, she said, is on a fast track after the President's veto last week. Through NCA's efforts, cattlemen were able to persuade key Congressional leaders to clarify the intent of a provision in the bill that could potentially disrupt traditional state and individual water rights and compacts.

Another issue of concern to both public and private lands cattlemen involves the President's Commission on American Outdoors, for which NCA provided testimony on land restrictions and water rights important to agriculture. The final report is due out soon, McDonald said. It includes many good outdoor recreation initiatives, but problems for cattlemen remain. She encouraged cattlemen to review the report and relay their views to their Congressmen.

Marketing: The trading of cattle futures has been of major interest to NCA's marketing committee, said Steve Atlander, technical and marketing analyst. The committee is closely monitoring the U.S. General Accounting Office investigation of cattle futures, and is continuously compiling the concerns and suggestions of NCA's members to make them available to the Congress, the GAO, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

USDA has announced that it will change the reference date of its mid-year cattle inventory report from July 1 to June 1, effective this year. NCA has opposed such a change. Atlander said, on the basis that it would seriously impair the use of USDA's data. It is working with government officials to restore the July 1 reference date.

Research and Education: A new list of priorities has been established, headed by research in diet, nutrition and human nutrition areas, said Darrell Wilkes, director of research and education.

In addition, the research and education committee will assist the Beef Safety Assurance Task Force in dealing and implementing a consumer research (CONT. ON PAGE 2A)

NCA Convention

OF THE NCA, INC. (NCA) strategy aimed at learning what consumers expect and are willing to accept in beef safety and wholesomeness.

Reef Promotion and Consumer Relations. The beef industry has faced diet guidance problems from such sources as the National Cancer Institute and the U.S. Air Force, said Chuck Ball, director of Washington Information and nutrition policy. To overcome problems of conflicting and inaccurate nutrition information, NCA is pursuing legislation to establish a formal review process for all government diet guidance. But, Ball said, that is only part of the solution to declining beef demand. NCA is working with the USDA and the Department of Health and Human Services on their upcoming food consumption surveys, and it is monitoring the development of the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute's Cholesterol Education Program and the Surgeon General's report on diet and health.

Grading and Inspection:

One of the issues which the grading and inspection committee has taken on is the proposed ungrading of and quality grades. This would encourage the slaughter floor, which in addition, NCA will attempt to prevent the imposition of user fees. The committee will continue to encourage the development of an objective, accurate electronic meat grading, to improve the application of grading standards and to significantly improve the marketing system, it added.

tion instantly, if not sooner. The whole story seems to be a little like it, whether it is setting in your chair or indulging your taste buds, will be deadly.

There are diet pills and countless various kinds available either over the counter or from your favorite health prescription. Will whatever and whatever you have to do your thing. Just the other day we saw a release where someone named it Susan Schiffman who was listed as Director of the Obesity Clinic at the University has developed a thing that has less than one calorie and you put it in your mouth and feel like you just got up from a full meal. The gimmick gives you what the Doctor calls "flavor satisfaction."

We ain't never had any particular trouble to pick with Duke, but this one to render us a good excuse to try to get an evil spell on 'em. It seems this old spry comes in various flavors like chocolate, peanut butter, jellies and apple cinnamon Danish, even blueberry cheesecake.

What we figger is that when the politicians start playin' around with farm production, they ought to be plannin' to plow up a lot of this diet stuff and discourage the production of it and future. If they are gonna try and take all of the joy and little pleasures out of life they ought to be controlled.

At a matter of fact, the more we think about it, lynching can't be all that bad.

Ever thine, The Editor.

P.S.: Unkles Dunk says now that Congress and the State Legislature gettin' to work on the shortfall of our gittin' to throw around at their targets and to try to solve all of our governmental deficits it would seem likely that you and me had better brace our selves for higher taxes. Expecting them fallers to slow down spending is just an idle dream. — Thersa Brothers

Cattle-Fax Predicts Higher 1987 Feeder Cattle Prices

Thorpe said. Longer term, the outlook for production costs are vague, primarily because of possible changes in farm programs.

Earlier this week, Rep. Kika De La Garza, D-Texas, told cattlemen he doubted the farm act would be opened up for revision, but some of the act's programs might be altered. Fed cattle prices should range from the high $50-per-cwt. area to the low $40s, he said. The best prices are likely in the spring, and the 1987 average price should be $1.00 to $3.00 higher than the 1986 average of $59.00. Declining production costs and higher average feeder cattle prices should improve market conditions for cow/calf operators, Thorpe said. Efficient producers with little or no debt service will "obviously fare best" and some will profit, he said.

Per capita beef supplies of 76.8 pounds, retail weight, are expected this year, compared with 77 to 79 pounds the past several years, said Tommy Ball, director of market research for Cattle-Fax.

Hall Of Fame Awards Announced By Beefmaster Breeders Universal

Beefmaster Breeders Universal (BBU) has unveiled the first honorees for the BBU Beefmaster Hall of Fame. Jack Dunn, Alice, Texas; Wallace Harrell, Gonzales, Texas; and the late Homer Herring of George West, Texas, were cited for their contributions to the development and growth of the Beefmaster breed.

The first BBU Hall of Fame Awards were announced at BBU's 26th Annual Convention, held in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, October 22-25, 1986. The bronze busts of these influential cattlemen will be placed in a permanent display at BBU headquarters in San Antonio, Texas.

Oklahoma, October 22-25, 1986. The bronze busts of these influential cattlemen will be placed in a permanent display at BBU headquarters in San Antonio, Texas.

Beefmaster Breeders Universal was chartered in 1961 and in 25 years has grown to rank as the sixth largest beef cattle breed registry in the nation. In presenting the breed's first Hall of Fame honorees, BBU Executive Vice President Gene Kuykendall said, "The strength of our breed today comes from the foundation that was provided by pioneer breeders like Jack Dunn, Wallace Harrell and Homer Herring. Today more than 3,500 BBU members pay tribute to these men for the success of Beefmaster cattle and BBU, and for our position as an industry leader. Their enthusiasm, dedication and foresight were a tremendous influence on all of us. In addition to the innovative leadership they provided our association, each was responsible for bringing many new Beefmaster breeders into this business. Many of you here tonight bought your first cattle from one of these men. The honor they receive tonight is a fitting acknowledgment to their contributions."

A Perfect Choice For Cows That Aren't

A good Beefmaster bull will cover up some of those little imperfections in your cow herd. Like adding more size, growth and milk production in the crossbred replacement heifers. And putting a lot more weight on your calves at weaning. It's not unusual for your Beefmaster cross calves to outweigh English breeds or crosses by 50 to 100 pounds at weaning. Extra pounds and extra dollars at weaning and a high percentage of truly outstanding "keeper" heifers are good reasons to choose Beefmasters. Today, those reasons could mean survival. Beefmasters. We're making the cattle business a little better. For more information on BBU registered Beefmaster cattle and a copy of our color brochure, call or write today.

Controlled Grazing Seminar Set For Brenham Texas

Wouldn't the cattle business be fun and profitable if you could take most of the farming, feeding and labor out of it? That's the goal of Controlled Grazing, the management of forage with grazing animals.

A one-day seminar on Controlled Grazing is scheduled for Brenham, Texas in February. Bob Kingsbery, who publishes "Controlled Grazing Times" and has written numerous articles on intensive grazing management, will present the latest grazing management techniques and technology. Kingsbery has been to New Zealand, where Controlled Grazing is widely practiced, as well as South Africa and throughout the United States to gather up-to-date information on Controlled Grazing.

Participants at the seminar will learn how American livestock producers are netting $500+ per acre from livestock while reducing their dependence on hay, fertilizer, herbicides and diesel. Also covered will be the utilization and management of "forgotten" forages for more profit, as well as the importance of enhancing the organic matter in the soil.

The Controlled Grazing Seminar will take place Saturday, February 7, 1987 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Prefernca Inn (formerly the Holiday Inn) in Brenham, Texas (Hwy 290 & 361). The cost is only $35 per person, but space is limited. To reserve a seat send $35 per person, along with your name, address & phone number to: Kingsbery Communications, 18285 Statrock, San Antonio, Texas 78248. For more information contact Bob Kingsbery at (512) 492-5028.

Farm Credit, Others Plan Secondary U.S. Farm Mortgage Market

Chicago, (UPI) — The creation of a secondary market for U.S. farm mortgages, similar to the existing one for residential loans, is being discussed nationally by the Farm Credit System and several bank and life insurance associations.

The groups have not agreed on any specifics in their first two meetings, including whether to back legislation setting up a new federal regulatory agency. But representatives said they hope to agree on a structure and propose any necessary legal changes during this session of Congress. "We are committed to the concept," said Floyd Stoner, federal legislation representative for the American Bankers Association. "We are not locked into anything. We want this to work."

A secondary market has been discussed since the late 1970's as a more efficient way for more lenders to provide farm mortgages, possibly resulting in lower interest rates. Legislation setting up such a market, however, was not introduced until the last congressional session when several bills were submitted. None managed to garner enough support for passage. As a result, the ASA, the Independent Bankers Association of America, the American Council of Life Insurers and the Farm Credit Council are trying to agree on a plan and then coordinate their efforts. The American Farm Bureau Federation earlier this week offered its assistance.

The discussion group has not yet decided its position on the only federal legislation introduced so far this year. The proposal by U.S. Rep. Richard Lehman and Sen. Alvin Cranston, both California Democrats, would create a new agency to regulate the packaging of farm mortgages. Securities backed by the pool of mortgages would be insured by private companies and sold to individual investors. A General Accounting Office study of a secondary farm mortgage market requested by Lehman is due to be completed in mid-February. A major question is expected to be

4th Annual Livestock Performance Center Bull Sale, February 13

Castroville, Texas — The 4th Annual Livestock Performance Center All-Breed Bull Sale will be held Friday, February 13, 1987. Sale time is 1:00 p.m. at the Livestock Performance Center at Castroville, Texas. Lunch will be at noon.

Selling will be 65 bulls including Brangus, Chianina, Simbrah, Simmental and Gelbvieh. Auctioneer will be Ruben Reyes. Sale day phone is 512/677-8820.

For information contact Homer Higdon, Box 520, Castroville, Texas 78009, 512/677-8820. Sale manager is Pierce Sales Company, Box 807, Bellville, Texas 77418, 409/806-9104.

Whether some type of federal "backstop" or guarantee is needed to make the market liquid. A plan being examined by the association group would have funds equal to 10% of the mortgage pool's value set aside in an interest-bearing account by the mortgage originator and the pooling firm. The reserve would be used if any problems arose, but then funds of the Farm Credit System or another government entity would be used. The Reagan Administration, however, is believed to be opposed to any type of federal guarantee. In addition, the question remains as to whether the market should be

WE UNDERSTAND TEXAS CATTLE

We all know that if you're going to raise cattle in most parts of Texas you have to use a breed that can take the heat and walk quite a distance to water. But suddenly, we're hearing some people in the packing industry say that cattle able to do this don't fit their programs.

At Alta Verde, we take another viewpoint. To us, an animal is not unfit just because he has some ear, or hump, or Mexican influence, and we don't intend to dock anyone just because he raises cattle that can survive in hard country.

We have the facilities and know-how to help you take your cattle through the feedlot all the way to the packing plant, and since we carry out each phase of the operation ourselves, we can make you a good deal on the entire package.

So if someone starts telling you that your cattle are below par, call and let us give you a second opinion. After all, people do make mistakes.

Farm Credit, Others Plan Secondary U.S. Farm Mortgage Market

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (UPI) — Regulated by a separate agency or one within the Farm Credit System, the Farmers Home Administration also has been mentioned as a possibility.

Ken Auer, vice president for legislation, Farm Credit Council, noted the Farm Credit System currently provides the majority of farm mortgages.

He said Farm Credit is studying whether it can pool mortgages and sell securities under existing law or whether additional authority is needed.

National Grain Market Review

Washington, Jan. 30 (USDA) — Highlights: market mixed in thin trade. Wheat and feed grain markets moved mixed in thin trade across the nation during the week ended Jan. 28.

Wheat: Wheat markets firmed in spite of slow export and slowed flour mill grind as farmers offered little wheat for sale. Chins may buy up to one million tons of U.S. wheat under the export subsidy program and there was a flurry of PL480 wheat authorizations to several countries.

Kansas City no. 1 hard red winter ordinary protein wheat rose 2 cents at 2.76, down 6 1/4 cents from 1986 end down 8 1/4 cents per bushel from 1986. Minneapolis no. 1 dark northern protein 14 1/2 protein wheat declined 5 cents at 307 1/4, down 79 cents from last year and down 88 cents from 1986. Portland no. 1 soft white wheat advanced two to four cents at 2.96-3.00, down 72-78 cents from 1986 and 80 to 88 cents under the 1986 price.

St. Louis no. 2 soft red winter wheat went up 2-4 cents at 3.10-3.15 but fell 39 cents from 1986 and fell 54-57 cents per bushel from the 1986 season.

Corn: Yellow corn markets fell under pressure by heavy trade in payments in kind certificate, corn and sorghum under pressure from slowed export trade. Large farmer owned corn stocks reduced domestic feeder demand. Omaha no. 2 yellow corn fell 8 cents at 1.44, down 1.00% per bushel from last season and 1.34% cents below 1986. Milling quality white corn trade dull and bid prices held unchanged.

Oats and barley: Oats markets were widely mixed in extremely light trade. Barley markets firmed as Saudi Arabia bought large quantities of U.S. barley. Sorghum: Yellow sorghum trade slowed and prices were steady to 5 cents per hundred pounds lower. Kansas City no. 2 yellow sorghum held at 2.52-2.51 but fell 1.20-1.30 from 1986 and dropped 1.91-1.93 from 1986. Texas high plains market was steady to 5 cents lower.

Oilseeds: Soybean markets showed spot strength as winter storms disrupted form to market movement and processors needed soybeans for steady crush. Cash soybean meal advanced 2.00-7.00 per ton at Decatur and the soybean oil market rose nearly 1/4 cent per pound adding support to cash soybean markets. Illinois processor point soybean bids moved 2 1/2 cents lower to 2 1/2 cents higher at 4.96-5.04 1/2 per bushel, down 42-47 cents from last year and 1.11-1.15 per bushel under 1986. Minneapolis sunflower oil advanced 1/4 cent at 18 1/4 cents per pound.

Mexico Increased Its 1986-87 Cattle Export Quota

Washington, (UPI) — Mexico has increased its 1986-87 (Sept.-Aug.) cattle export quota because of good pasture conditions in southern and northern cattle raising areas, USDA said in its weekly roundup of world production and trade.

It said the quota has been increased to 1.07 million head from 984,000 in 1985-86, according to USDA's agricultural counselor in Mexico City. However, despite the higher quota, a limited supply of male animals of appropriate age and weight is expected to constrain 1986-87 exports to 800,000 to 900,000 head, USDA said.

Kaufman Says Interest Rates To Drop Further

Washington, Feb. 1 (KRF) — Financial analyst Henry Kaufman, of Salomon Brothers, Inc., in New York, said today he thinks the Federal Reserve Board will cut the discount rate once more this year, probably in March or April.

Speaking on ABC Television's "This Week With David Brinkley," he said the rate cut will not come earlier, as many have been expecting. Rather, "the Fed will wait a little longer."

Because of the recent decline of the dollar and in order to nudge the economy in the next two months, Kaufman predicted the commercial prime rate will go lower this year, while the yield on treasury long bonds could dip below 7%. He said the dollar has not been in a "freefall" and that neither higher interest rates or a recession are imminent.

Kaufman added that financial markets have not lost their underlying confidence in the dollar because they know that "when push comes to shove," monetary authorities will get together and stabilize the situation.

TEXAS HEREFORD NEWS

Hereford Competition Reported From The National Western

Hereford competition at the National Western Stock Show in Denver was as usual for many years, another blockbuster of a show. Often termed the "Super Bowl for the Hereford Breed," huge crowds were on hand for all the Whiteface events.

Saddled with the chores of placing the cattle was Ned Ray Purdie, well-known registered and commercial cattleman from Hope, Ar.

A massive individual from the late yearling bull class weighing 2,095 pounds was named the grand champion bull. He is SR Verdict 455, owned by a trio of breeders, Stuber Ranch, Brown, ND., the breeder; and Weldon Edwards, Clyde, Tx.; and Lee Campbell, Oulfin, Tx.

Winning the second highest honor in the bull show was DR Awesome 8429, believed to be the heaviest bull in modern times to show in Denver. He weighed in at 2,538 pounds. "Awesome" is owned by Born Herefords, Fullerton, Tx., and by the breeder, Duncan Ranch Co., Joplin, Mo.

The competition in the female show was just as strong as in the bull show. A heifer calf that had won her class at the National Western a year ago returned to top the show as a junior yearling, Ounrobin Sparkles 327, owned by Jack St. Arnold, Vimy, Alberta, (CONT. ON PAGE 8B)

"1999: An Industry's Odyssey" Theme Of '87 Congress

Kansas City — "1999: An Industry's Odyssey" will be the theme of the 1987 Livestock Industry Congress, a livestock and meat industry conference conducted annually by the Livestock Industry Institute. The Congress will be held June 9-11 in Toronto, Ontario.

"We chose a forward-looking theme for the '87 Congress to emphasize our optimism about the future of this industry," said Michael L. Sweet, executive director of the Livestock Industry Institute, a not-for-profit organization which conducts the annual event. LII has 760 members in the U.S. and Canada.

"Webster's dictionary describes an odyssey as 'a long journey marked by many changes of fortune.' I think that description especially fits our industry," Sweet said. "We've had some real trials to overcome on the road to profitability, but we've made some needed changes and we're moving ahead."

"That's what the '87 Congress is going to look at," he added. "What's ahead for 1989, and how to get there."

Sweet said some of the topics to be covered at the '87 Congress are: tomorrow's consumers; and what kind of products they'll want; how much industry might by February 20. Reservations are $75 per person.

integration is enough; which consumer trends are likely to have a lasting impact on the industry; and what kinds of business operations will grow and prosper in the coming decade. All the information, he said, will focus on helping business people plan for the next century, which is not far away.

Over the years, the Livestock Industry Congress has gained a reputation throughout the industry as a top conference program that often introduces new trends and ideas. Those attending the Congress include livestock producers, feeders and marketers, retailers and meat packers, livestock economists, industry consultants, and representatives from livestock and meat organizations.

For more information about the '87 Congress, contact the Institute at 301 East Armour Blvd., Kansas City, Mo. 64111, or (816) 531-2255.

Futures Talk Week Ending Jan. 10

In last week's article, I began a discussion of order transmission to and execution by Floor Brokers at the Futures Exchanges. In a continuation of that discussion, your broker at your brokerage house first has to transmit your order to their floor personnel at the Exchange. Your order can be transmitted by wire or by a direct-line phone system. If the order is transmitted by phone, it is recorded on the Floor by a Phone Clerk. These calls are also mechanically recorded in case a dispute arises later.

The Phone Clerk will always read the order back to your broker. This brings up a very important point. When you give your order to your broker, it is a good idea to have your broker repeat the order back to you. Sometimes we say "bait" when we want to say "sell" and no error occurs. Since a futures trade is a legally binding contract, the error is generally charged to the initiator of the order involving the error. It is their responsibility to detect an error. We are dealing with "live bullets," and a careless mistake can be very costly! These markets can move very fast in a very short period of time.

When the order is transmitted to the floor of the Exchange, the Phone Clerk gives the order to a Runner who carries the order to a Floor Broker in the Trading Ring. The Runner cannot "run" but must walk to the Floor Broker. As pointed out in last week's article, access to the Trading Pit can become difficult because of congestion. Once the order is received by the Floor Broker, your order is put into the customer orders waiting to be executed. The orders are filled in the order on a "first come-first serve" basis.

If your order is a "priced order," in other words it is to be executed at a predetermined price as opposed to being executed at the "market," it will be filled in the Floor Brokers desk behind other orders at the same price. If the market trades at your price, your order may not be filled because there may be too many orders ahead of yours, and there may not be enough orders on the other side of your trade to fill everyone.

If you are in phase with the flow of the price, the markets will pay you a handsome dividend.

The trend and flow of March feeder cattle remains up. The "flow" is a short term directional indicator. When a downtrending market tries to hot-tom out, the flow will turn neutral first, and then at a later time, the "trend" may be broken. Price can only do three things: move up, move down, or stay in a neutral position. Once in a neutral position, it will take more technical factors to move the flow into either the up or down mode. The "trend" is a long-term directional indicator. The resistance points outlined in last week's article have all been knocked out. The next resistance should be around $68.15, and the way this market is moving, that one will probably be gone by the time you read this article. The previous rally was for 11 days. To date, this rally is up 3 days. There is a gap between $66.15 and $64.86 which will probably be filled before the contract expires.

The trend and flow of June live cattle (fms) remains up. The resistance outlined in last week's article has been knocked out. The gap for the market is between $69.70 and $69.99.

The trend of July hogs remains up in accordance with last week's article. The close above $47.00 has changed the flow from down to neutral. There is major resistance around $48.00. The hogs are following the cattle and blue, to date, for 9 days also. If the market closes above $48.00, the next resistance should be found near $49.00.

The trend of July corn remains down, and the flow remains neutral. There is support around $1.64 and resistance around $1.80.

The trend of May wheat remains up, and the flow remains neutral. A close above 2.74 should change the flow to up or a close below 2.60 should change the flow to down.

The trend of March soybeans remains sideways. The boundaries of the sideways pattern are $5.11 and $4.83. The flow and trend of June Treasury Bills remains down. The resistance is around $5.10. Treasury Bill futures are traded with numbers that are the reciprocal of interest rates. As T-Bill futures move lower, interest rates are becoming higher.

Carlton Elected 1987 President

Effective January 1, 1987, Howard Carlton, from Throckmorton, Texas, will be the first Texan to be elected president of the IBA. He is a former IBA director.

Carlton is currently manager of the Throckmorton Land & Cattle Company, a 47,000-acre ranch with 6,000 cows and 1,000 head of cattle.

During his term as president, Carlton hopes to increase the number of IBA registered cattle to 25,000. His primary goal is to "continue expansion of the association in the western, central and eastern regions." According to Carlton, the regional associations will facilitate communications within a few areas for the purpose of announce-ing promotions, field days and seminars on a local level.

The IBA 1987 slate of officers has a broad base geographically, with officers and directors from Texas, Florida, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, and New Mexico. Carlton feels that this fact will be a great asset to the organization's progress and he is "very excited to have the opportunity to work with an excellent set of officers."

The nominating committee — Ed Tinsley, Bud Adams, and Cuth Reddough reported the selection of the following slate of officers: President — Howard Carlton, Vice-President — Robert Buocher, Secretary — R. N. Koblegard III, Treasurer — Mike Adams.

The entire slate was elected and 1986 president Cuth Reddough introduced the 1987 president, Howard Carlton, who then presented Cuth's plaque for his dedicated service to the IBA for the years 1984, 1985, and 1986. Howard introduced the 1987 officers and pledged to do his best to continue the progress of the IBA.

There were eight states represented at the meeting — Arkansas, New Jersey, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Missouri, and Florida.

"Fine Print" Herbicide Label
York, NE - Reading the "fine print" in the "Directions for Use" section of herbicide labels is a time well spent according to Jeff Kugler, Service Field Division Manager, York, Nebraska.
Deviating from the label can waste herbicide dollars and hurt pest control. For example, Kugler notes that just by changing from flat fan nozzles, recommended by the label, to recommended flood jet nozzles, could reduce weed control by 10% to 15% because of poorer coverage.

Wool & Mohair

Pokin' Fun

Just when we thought we'd heard of everything along comes a Florida preacher who has entered the frozen food industry with an ice cream made of vegetables. Ha ha every flavor from artichoke to zucchini. Just thinking of it turns my brains to squish. The reverend says he got the idea one day while meditating over a wounded turnip.

His vegetable garden had just been devastated by a neighbor's milk cow so the connection is not too far fetched. The cow was soon forgiven for her trespasses and baptized as a member of the congregation. Ever since, she has been a heavy contributor.

This all-natural ice cream is no joke. The preacher has become an entrepreneur of gigantic dimensions, with a proposed production plant costing in excess of six million dollars. They have added assorted fruits and nuts to meet demands of California residents including a senior citizen special called Prune Ripple.

Instead of sugar, they are using honey. Who would have thought the land of milk and honey would turn out to be in a Florida celery field?

The reverend wanted to call his product Vego-Cream but was talked out of it by the Georgia-based manufacturer who agreed to market it. The last I heard, it was named "Yuk."

It is reported that the new concoction will cost between $2.25 and $2.50 per pint. I have it on good authority that it will be sold by the pint only in "licker stores."

However, everybody who tries it says it is delicious — both of them.

Believe it or not, the two I refer to are Disneyworld and the U.S. Navy. Sounds like something thought up by our Mickey Mouse military.

The Disneyworld theme park will soon offer this delicacy in flavors ranging from combinations of Donald Duck Dill to Pluto Parsnip. My favorite is Dope Bunny Carrot Ice Cream. It is plain white. Elmer Fudd was always saying "That quazy wabbit."

Now who would think the military would jump on the vegetable ice cream kick? Sounds like something my old drill sergeant would dream up ... with Spam topping.

However, this interested branch is the naval base command in Florida. I can just see the menu on a ship filled with new sailors who have yet to get their sea legs coordinated with their sea stomachs ... Hardtack, Spam, and for dessert — a big helping of Navy Bean Tutti Frutti. — Copyright 1986 Doc Blakely Pokin' Fun Newspaper Syndicate, Doc Blakely, 3404 Fairway Dr., Wharton, TX 77488 ... The cattle market is on fire. Prices have exploded upwards following a very bullish Cattle-on-Feed report. Not only are prices moving higher, but the open interest in the futures market has increased sharply, volume of trading is heavy and the bull spreads are working. These are the earmarks of a bull market.

I am not a bear towards the cattle market. I am still forecasting cash and futures prices of $55 to $70 by early summer. Nevertheless, until the first quarter of 1987 is past, or a significant break in prices occurs, I will remain a cautious bull.

I am convinced that the cash cattle markets will drop from their current level of $62 down to the $55 to $58 level by late February or early March. If that happens, nearby futures prices will tumble quickly.

There should be an increase in cattle going to market in the near future. Not only will there be an increase in cattle numbers being marketed but the cattle weights should be on the heavy side. The increased supply along with the currently sluggish demand should pressure prices through the month of February.

Another negative for rising prices is the level of open interest in the cattle market. The cattle market has a historical tendency to top out when the open interest exceeds 60,000 contracts. Open interest is now at 75,000 contracts up from 65,000 in late December.

If You Raise Coastal For Hay Or Grazing... YOU NEED The Revolutionary PORCUPINE®

OR Porcupine Jr.
Here's how it works...

The "PORCUPINE" SOIL AERATOR is designed to promote better Grass growth. Greater soil water holding ability, better penetration of Fertilizer into the soil and prevent hardpan.

Simply use this tool to Aerate your pastures all during the year, especially before fertilizing. The SOIL AERATOR punches thousands of silts 4 to 5 1/2" deep into the soil thus permitting the Fertilizer to get down to the roots and not wash or blow away on topsoil. The pointed spikes are welded in a pattern on the unit to permit more soil penetration and maximum ground "punching." This allows more water and moisture holding capacity for faster root growth. You can also attach twin Harrows behind the SOIL AERATOR to break up cow chips and spread them at the same time... all this without any damage to the field, any new sprigs or present growth. Wheels are mounted on the tongue of the unit for transportation of the AERATOR. Simply Jack it up and place the wheels under it for easy movement from pasture to pasture or ranch to ranch.

An 80 horsepower minimum tractor is recommended to pull the standard aerator. We also manufacture a smaller model of the Porcupine, which can be pulled with a 45 horsepower tractor. This model is 4 feet narrower in width, but has the same punching power as the standard Porcupine.

- Increases Hay Production per Acre
- Lets You Graze More Cows per Acre

This Simmental sale has become one of the most popular Simmentals sales in America.

U.S.-EEC Grain Agreement Good Deal For U.S. Farmers — Yeutter

San Diego, (UPI) — The settlement reached between the U.S. and EEC to compensate the U.S. for lost grain sales to Spain and Portugal was "an excellent agreement" for U.S. farmers, U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter said.

Yeutter was here to address the National Association of Wheat Growers and worked to complete negotiations by telephone.

He said the agreement would have been better for U.S. farmers if the EEC had agreed to make full compensation to the U.S. through feed grain purchases.

But, he said, "I think we pushed them about as far as we could" to get the EEC to make about three-fourths of the compensation with grain purchases.

He said negotiations were hampered into the early morning hours mainly by concerns "about satisfactorily protecting our rights after 1990," when the agreement expires.

He said the current agreement would be monitored closely to see that the EEC upholds its terms.

Colostrum immunity in a convenient 10 ml dose!

Antibodies against both K99 plus antigens and all of the serologic antigens of whole cell Escherichia coli cultures make ECOLIZER™ the most complete E. coli antibody product available. Monoclonal antibody products contain only antigens against specific K99 pill, and neglect the other important antigens on the E. coli bacterium. Administered orally to newborn calves, ECOLIZER™ prevents E. coli scours, the major killer of calves in their first week of life. ECOLIZER™ is an ideal routine, easy-to-use prevention method when cows have not received Pili Shield™. It insures survival when calves don't ingest enough colostrum.

Cheap Feed Boosts Cash Feeder Cattle Prices

KEVIN PENDLEY

Kansas City, KRP1 - Feeder cattle prices have been increasing, and are expected to continue higher into spring. Industry sources told Knight-Ridder Financial News.

Feeder steers and heifers were $1.00 to $3.00 per cwt higher Jan. 26 at the Oklahoma City auction, with 700 to 800 pound steers at $5.50 to $7.50, according to USDA. Price gains were fueled by USDA's 13-state cattle-unfed report Friday, the sources said. The report put Oct.-Dec. placements at 51% of a year ago, compared with the average pre-report estimate of 56.5%.

Though the C-O-F report spurred price gains early this week, the major factor contributing to higher feeder cattle prices has been the cheap price of feed grain, sources said.

"Last year, it cost 48 to 50 cents a pound to fatten a steer to 1,100 pounds from 700," Professional Cattle Consultants Analyst Tom Tippens said. "This year, that cost is down to 38 to 40 cents a pound, a savings of $4.00 per head."

According to USDA's hog and steer ration rates, the price of corn for the week ended Jan. 17 was $1.40 per bushel, compared with $2.35 a year ago. "When grain is cheap, the preference is for a little lighter animal," LBA's consulting group analyst Joe Krupf said. "The competition for these lighter animals will drive 600-pound feeders past the present $2.00 premium (to 700 pound feeders) to $3.00 over."

Feeder steers weighing 600 to 700 pounds sold at the Oklahoma City Auction Monday at $67.40 to $72.30 per cwt, USDA reported, compared with $65.50 to $70.50 on 700 to 800 pound feeders. Tight supplies of feeder cattle, the profitability of fed cattle, and the relatively high price of deferred futures are also supporting the feeder cattle market, sources said.

"Young cattle are much more difficult to find right now than in past years," Oklahoma City National Stockyards sources said. "You can go to the Dakotas or Nebraska and get all

Feedlot Trading Opened Higher

Western Kansas feedlot trade fairly active. Slaughter steers and heifers 50-100 higher. Inquiry and demand good. Sales confirmed on 3,500 slaughter steers and 3,500 slaughter heifers Monday. For the week to date including late Friday and the weekend, 8,400 head confirmed. Heifers: mostly choice 2-3 1000-1150 lbs. 62.50-63.00; choice with end good 1000-1075 lbs. 62.00-62.50.

The high price of deferred live cattle futures allows better hedging opportunities, and if June and Aug. contracts move into the 80.00 range, feeder cattle weighing 700 pounds will sell for more than $70.00, Tippens said. CME June live cattle futures closed 18 points higher Tuesday at $60.35, and Aug. closed 5 lower at $58.30.

Those same weight feeder steers should trend higher to the mid-80 range, and reach a seasonal top in March, Krupf said. Feeder prices could be driven to even higher levels if heifer retention rises to cut supplies, Krupf said. "Bred heifers have been selling at unreasonably high prices," Jim Govey, Extension Beef Specialist with the University of Nebraska, said. "When that happens, it signals to me that some herd rebuilding and better retention are on the horizon."

Practical prices on bred heifers are $200.00 more per head than a year ago, with current practical tops at $550.00 per head, a source at the Oklahoma City National Stockyards said.

"The 1987 feeder cattle market is shaping up as one of the best in years. I'm very positive of what I've seen," the Oklahoma City National Stockyards Source said. "This indicates the smart ranchman will be making some money the next 2 to 3 years."

Q. Brush encroachment is one of my major problems and artificial brush control is costing me an arm and a leg. What do you suggest?

Dr. Stan Parsons

A. Nature will constantly strive for climax vegetation. In vast grazing areas undisturbed by man, grazing and fire keep the range at a sub-climax level with little brush. Through man's intervention, low density patch grazing results in some patches being over-grazed and others being under-grazed—conditions ideally suited to brush encroachment. Cure the cause (poor grazing management) and the effect (brush) will disappear.
